

HEROES LUNCHEON AT GREENBRIER RETIREMENT CENTER

The men and women of the Parma Heights Police and Fire Departments were honored at a Heroes Luncheon at the Greenbrier Retirement Center on Thursday, September 9, 2010.

Mayor Michael P. Byrne and members of the departments were in attendance as the center honored “those who fight day in and day out for our freedoms, those who protect and serve, and those who do whatever it takes to ensure our safety.”

Jill Burke, Executive Director of the Greenbrier Retirement Center and Ted Petriski, resident and past Deputy Sheriff of Cuyahoga County welcomed the participants. The invocation was given by the Rev. Roger Polefko, Deacon at St. John Bosco Church. Lunch was provided courtesy of the Greenbrier Senior Living Community with entertainment by Bob & Shelly Orlandi. Residents of the Greenbrier Retirement Center handled the presentation of gifts and Lydia West, Director of Marketing for the center gave the closing remarks.
