A message from

MAYOR MICHAEL P. BYRNE

I want to take this opportunity to announce the appointment of our new part-time Director of Recreation, Joseph A. Tal. If the name sounds familiar, you are correct! Mr. Tal, a Parma Heights resident, was our Service and Recreation Director for many years under previous administrations and brings with him a wealth of experience.

The accessibility of beautiful parks and plentiful recreational opportunities for residents of all ages remains a top priority of my administration. Over the years we've added new activities, expanded others, incorporated online registration – and now our Recreation brochure has gotten a brand new look! You'll note that we've grouped like activities and streamlined the look of the information. We've also created a section dedicated to the heart of our community – the Greenbrier Commons – and all the activities located there.

The greatness of a community lies in its people. Recreational activities, even something as simple as taking a neighborhood walk or cheering on a local team are great ways to get out, meet your neighbors and take full advantage of the beauty of our great city. I encourage you to take a look through these pages, sign-up for an activity or simply come and enjoy an event - Parma Heights Recreation has a lot to offer everyone!

Michael P. Byrne

ACTIVITIES IN THE COMMONS

FAMILY ENTERTAINMENT, CLUBS, AND CLASSES

CASSIDY THEATRE (L)

Live Broadway–style theatre right in the heart of Parma Heights! See the 2019-2020 Calendar to see the season of shows. Theatre classes for ages 7–18 offered year round. For tickets, classes, or to volunteer, call the theatre at 440.842.4600 or visit their website at www.cassidytheatre.com.

COMMUNITY ROOMS (L)

Our recently-renovated community rooms with kitchen facilities in the lower level of the theatre are available for rent to Parma Heights residents. Call 440.884.9606 for information.

WALKING TRAIL with FITNESS STATIONS (M) and BIG CREEK CONNECTOR TRAIL (O)

Tucked away in the woods behind the Theatre Building (L), you will find a Walking Trail (M) equipped with fitness stations that will lead you to the Big Creek Connector Trail (O) and the beautiful bridge across the creek – a spectacular walk in all seasons.

CLUBS

GARDEN CLUB COMMUNITY GARDEN (B)

Thousands of daffodils have been planted by the Garden Club throughout city parks and public spaces. Club members cultivate the Volunteer Community Garden in the Commons. Harvested fresh vegetables are donated to the Parma Heights Food Pantry. The Garden Club is always looking for new members. To volunteer call Kathy at 440.829.7153.

GREENBRIER ART LEAGUE (L)

“Every Tuesday is Art Day” at the Cassidy Theatre from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m. when you join the Greenbrier Art League. Meetings are free - just bring your own art supplies – any medium – from beginner to advanced. For more information, call Susan Kiedio at 440.845.5373.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY (C)

The Parma Heights Historical Society maintains the historic Toll House that is open on Saturdays between the hours of 10 a.m. – 2 p.m. from Memorial Day through Labor Day. The society collects artifacts, conducts research, and preserves our rich community history. The society also sponsors an Annual Easter Egg Hunt, Halloween Pumpkin Painting and other community projects. To get involved, contact Aldo Melaragno at 216.496.7150.

YOGA FOR ADULTS (L)

Three types of yoga are offered at varying times throughout the year. Please check our website at www.parmaheightsoh.gov for updates on class selection, schedules and pricing.

Yoga with Pilates – The muscle sculpting of Pilates combined with the flexibility of yoga and nonstop fluid movement.

Vinyasa Flow Yoga – One of the most popular contemporary styles of yoga that strings poses together in a flowing sequence of movement and breath.

Free Outdoor Yoga Classes – Come enjoy a fun family–friendly outdoor yoga class that will leave you feeling balanced, grounded, relaxed, and connected to nature.

Classes the 1st Saturday of the month – May through September. | Registration at 9:30 a.m. at the Gazebo (A).
